It's this deep

The leader of a group of 45 Romulus residents, Tom Panian, concerned about drainage problems in the Wincliff Subdivision, shows how deep the water will stand in his backyard unless the problem is corrected. Residents have volunteered to provide the labor if the City of Romulus helps with engineering to correct the standing water problem. Unless corrected, the problem will cause water to stand in backyards along Marc, Michelle and Julie streets during most of the spring. — The Romulus Roman photo.

And solve problems

Residents try to avoid special billing for drain

Residents of Romulus' Wincliff Subdivision are hoping to gather their neighbors together in a cooperative effort to avoid a $570 special assessment recommended as a means to solve a drainage problem by the city's administration.

Residents living on Julie, Marc and Michelle streets near Wick and Wayne roads have complained to the city about continuing drainage problems which result in water standing as much as 9-inches deep in their backyards during much of the spring.

"We started working on the problem last year, but with the dry summer, it didn't continue, so we didn't press for a solution," said Tom Panian, the spokesman for 60 residents affected by the problem. "But with the winter thaw, it began again, and we asked the city for help."

At a meeting between the Romulus city administration, the Romulus City Council and the citizens, the city's engineer recommended a new drainage program for the homes and proposed residents pay for it at a cost of $570 per home.

"There's no way we can afford that kind of an assessment," Panian said. "So instead, we've been working together for another solution and may have found it."

Some residents in the problem area have installed perforated pipe some 18 inches in the ground and covered it with gravel.

The pipe-gravel combination appears to soak up the excess water in backyards and carry it away.

And the cost can't be beat. "By furnishing our own labor, I think the job can be done for as little as $20 per home," Panian said. "The trick's to get everyone to agree."

Residents in the neighborhood circulated a petition last weekend asking if all citizens would be interested in the plan.

Of the 55 property owners involved, 43 agreed to go along with the plan and only one dissented.

"We couldn't contact the others," Panian said.

The citizens group has set up a meeting with the Romulus City Council at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the City Hall.

Romulus Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally, who chairs the Romulus City Council, said the legislative body wants to explore the means of solving the problem.

"I can say that in the past the council has appropriated funds to serve special interests," Mrs. McAnally said. "There may be a possibility to do the same in this instance."

"But there must be discussion on the issue and an understanding on what it will take to resolve it."

Panian said that the sooner the problem is resolved, the better it will be for all residents.

"There's no doubt the standing water causes a health and safety hazard," he said. "There was a time last winter when my 2-year-old son, David, was playing in the backyard on the ice."

"He broke through and got stuck for a few moments in the mud caused by standing water."

"Fortunately my wife was looking out the window and could help him."

"But it's nothing any parent wants to contend with and hopefully we can take care of the problem this year for good."

Attorneys examine ban

Attorneys for the Wayne County Road Commission still are examining a Federal District Court judge's ruling which bans the use of federal funds on constructing a $31 million runway in Romulus until the commission complies with federal environmental impact standards.

The attorneys are examining Federal District Judge Cornelia J. Kennedy's ruling to determine whether it will be appealed on whether the road commission should begin the long process required to comply with environmental impact law on the effect the runway in Detroit Metropolitan Airport will have on the environment of Romulus.

"The best that can be said is that it may be coming to a head, and a decision will be made one way or the other soon," said a spokesman for the commission. "But other than that, the commission has no reaction to the ruling."

Federal financing makes up nearly 50 percent of the construction of a new northeast-to-southwest runway in the airport.

Residents of Romulus, with funding from both the city and school government, brought suit against the Road Commission and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to protest the construction of the runway.

Judge Kennedy upheld the residents' complaints in a ruling in mid-March. Construction on the runway was approximately one-fifth completed by the time the ruling was handed down by Judge Kennedy. The project continues at a slackening pace and will halt in the relatively near future.

Road Commission administrators have not yet released figures on how much the delay in construction will cost while the impact statement is being prepared.

However, informal estimates made during the court case put the cost at $1 million per month.

The runway, the third in a northeast-to-southwest direction in the airport, is to be 12,000 feet long and is to accommodate the largest aircraft expected to land at Detroit Metropolitan Airport until the end of the century.

To obtain land for the construction of the new runway, the Road Commission has had to condemn property lying along the perimeter of the airport and has had to reroute Eureka Road at the south of the airport.

Decision being sought to bring county parade closer to city

A decision which may bring the Wayne County Bicentennial Parade closer to the City of Romulus will be made in two weeks.

Members of the Wayne County Bicentennial Committee, made up of representatives from each of the 43 communities in the county, will choose between a route from Westland to Greenfield Village along Michigan Avenue and another from the Michigan State Fairgrounds to the Detroit River along Woodward at their May 15 meeting.

The decision, originally scheduled to be made last week at a committee meeting, was put off after Ross Colloway, a spokesman for Greenfield Village, gave a presentation on why the committee should follow the Michigan Avenue route.

Billed as the "world's greatest parade" the May 2, 1976 gathering of more than 200 floats on wheels will be designed to celebrate the United States' 200th anniversary of independence in Wayne County.

Van Buren Township Bicentennial Committee Co-chairman Patricia Cullin first proposed that the parade in the county be moved from the traditional Woodward Avenue route in a March meeting of the county Bicentennial group.

She proposed a route from the Detroit-Dearborn city limits to Greenfield Village along Michigan Avenue. Other routes suggested at the meeting included the Woodward Avenue route taken by the J.L. Hudson Co.-sponsored Thanksgiving Day Parade, Telegraph Road and the State Fairgrounds to the River route on Woodward Avenue.

Only the State Fairgrounds to the Detroit River Route and the Michigan Avenue route from Merriman Road to Greenfield Village were judged to have the large assembly areas needed to put together a 200-float parade.

Mrs. Cullin said she supports the Michigan Avenue route to Greenfield Village since "it goes back to the heritage of our nation — a goal of the Bicentennial celebration."

"What's more fitting than to end a parade in the most historic area of Michigan?" said Mrs. Cullin. "I favor the Greenfield Village assembly area because of that historical aspect and because I believe the parade route should be in an area which is more accessible to all residents of Wayne County."

Mrs. Cullin contends that the Detroit route would not be easily accessible to residents of such communities as Van Buren Township, Belleville and Romulus which lie on the county's western border.

"That's just too far for us to cart a float for the parade," she said.

Moving along

Construction on the I-275 freeway in Romulus is expected to accelerate during the summer as the winter lull ends and good construction weather begins. Expected to be completed during the next few months is the paving of the freeway bridge over Huron River Drive and the erection of girders for the Eureka overpass of the expressway. The freeway is designed to loop traffic around Detroit, joining with I-75 near Flat Rock and ending at I-96 and I-696 near Farmington Hills. Though good construction weather is anticipated this summer, the opening of the freeway will not be until next year. — The Romulus Roman photo.

City Hall to be site of meet

Romulus City Hall will be the scene for one of a series of public hearings planned by the Detroit-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging to get public opinion on the needs of senior citizens.

The hearings, which began in Detroit last week, have been planned to outline the agency's funding objectives for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and to encourage public reaction to them. Members of the agency's 15-seat Board of Directors will take part.

The resulting area plan will be submitted to the Michigan Office on Aging in order to qualify Detroit and Wayne County programs for the aged for a total of $791,729 under the U.S. Older Americans Act.

Hearings will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Livonia Senior Citizens Center, 15218 Farmington Road, and at 3 p.m. at Bushnell Congregational Church hall, 15000 Southfield Road, Detroit.

Hearings will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Romulus City Council chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, and at 3 p.m. Friday at Mt. Zion American Lutheran Church, 13560 E. McNichols, Detroit.

The proposed area plan is available for review at the agency's offices, 2516 David Stott Building, 1150 Griswold, Detroit, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Agency hears buyers' gripes

Consumers with complaints against business won't have to go all the way downtown to be heard by the Wayne County Consumer Protection Agency because a representative of that group will be at Westland City Hall May 13 and at 23483 Sumpter Road, Sumpter Township May 20 to hear consumer gripes.

From 12 to 4 p.m. Debi McGerry of the agency will be available at the city offices, 36601 Ford Road, for persons who are unable to visit the agency's offices in Detroit.

Any area residents with a complaint can be heard by the representative and also are asked to bring all pertinent documents concerning the case.

The downtown office of the Consumer Protection Agency is at 256 Congress in Detroit. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday; 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Thursday; and 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

Residents plan city clean-up

Residents of Romulus are drawing together to help clean up the community before May 1.

The city has hired 18 residents under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) to clean roadways, ditches and public property throughout the city; while the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, have pitched in to inform the residents of the month-long clean-up campaign.

"The campaign has moved along quite well," said Romulus Council President Pro Tem Joan A. Lee who is heading the effort this year. "The CETA employees have been in action a little more than a week, and already the results can be seen."

"I'm just hoping the spirit of these 18 clean-up helpers can be transferred to all the citizens of the city so the campaign is a success."

Mrs. Lee said that individuals in Romulus will be asked to clean up vacant property they own, to cut weeds and to report incidents of littering to city officials.

"It's important that all residents do their share to insure the success of the campaign," Mrs. Lee added. "The special employees are doing a lion's share of the job, but they can't do it all by themselves."

Members of the clean-up campaign committee are requesting a special effort on the part of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the courts in the area to force residents to cooperate with the program.

"We are urging the sheriff to be on the look out for litter bugs, and to ticket them accordingly," Mrs. Lee said. "It also is imperative that our law enforcement agency be backed up by our judicial branch with heavy fines for any litter violators or those ticketed for unkempt premises and junk cars."

Girl Scouts have saved the city more than $700 through volunteer work. The youngsters volunteered to leaflet the city to inform residents of the month-long campaign and to win public cooperation.

"I would like to publicly thank all of our girls and their efforts in passing out Mayor (Terry) Troutt's letter on the clean-up campaign," Mrs. Lee said. "Not only did they save our city and taxpayers mailing costs, but they also are helping to pass out the spirit of involvement."

Mrs. Lee added that the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts have been active, passing out posters on the campaign to businesses in the community.

To aid in the project, the city is establishing a special trash pick up system for removing objects not normally collected on trash pick-up days.

Gary Bingaman is handling arrangements for trash removal. He may be contacted at 941-0666.

Trumble and Lee leave jobs at GM

A Romulus councilman and the husband of another have left jobs with the General Motors Corporation following a protest by the United Auto Workers (UAW) of their hiring in late March.

City Councilman Jack Trumble and Robert E. Lee, the husband of Council President Pro Tem Joan A. Lee, resigned their positions at the GM parts warehouse April 15 after the UAW protested their hiring.

Workers at the parts warehouse informed The Romulus Roman that Trumble was hired March 24 and Lee on March 19 — only days after the Romulus City Council approved in principal a 50 percent tax break for the giant corporation for new construction on a 375-acre parcel in the city.

The UAW contended that the contract between the union and the automaker was violated in the hirings, since GM had agreed to hire other GM employees laid-off from their jobs before hiring "outsiders" to fill available positions in the company.

Neither Trumble nor Lee were laid off from GM jobs prior to their employment at the warehouse.
Trumble, a member of the Sheet Metal Works International Association had been working a road construction job and Lee had been working as a tool and die maker for Ford Motor Co. Both have been out of work for more than a year.

GM in the 1960s. But that employment did not qualify them for immediate hiring under the existing UAW contract with GM.
Both Trumble and Mrs. Lee denied that their votes on the tax break resulted from the corporation's hiring of the two men.

Parade may be closer to city

However, Wayne County Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner, chairman of the Bicentennial Committee in Wayne County, contends there may be problems with assembling all the vehicles for a parade at Greenfield Village.

Steiner has charged a parade route task force to meet prior to the May 15 meeting of the Bicentennial Committee to make a determination on the route.

According to Mrs. Cullin, one of the aspects which may weigh in favor of the Detroit route is a promise by network television news sources for television coverage of the "world's largest parade" if it is run along Woodward Avenue.

"It was pointed out at the last county Bicentennial Committee meeting that we could lose television coverage if the route were changed," she said. "But I think it's important this parade is brought to all the people of Wayne County and to a more central location in Western Wayne County than one by the riverfront in Detroit."

Mrs. Cullin said she has contacted several representatives from area communities to ask their opinion on the Michigan Avenue route and has received some support.

Lawmaker criticizes Congress

It may be comforting for some to know that we have a lawmaker in Lansing exerting his energies to make it a criminal offense for any unauthorized person to try to make an atomic bomb.

Rep. Edward E. Mahalak's legislation also would make it a crime for an unauthorized person to possess the atomic bomb ingredient, plutonium. Mahalak is state representative for the 38th District which covers the City of Romulus and Sumpter Township.

The information that Mahalak has introduced the bills came to us in one of his weekly press releases which allow us to let you know what Rep. Mahalak wants you to know about what he is doing in Lansing. The representative may find that this is one press release he probably should have placed in file 13 rather than mailed to us.

According to the press release, Rep. Mahalak is concerned about atomic bombs because of a report by scientist that a Massachusetts Institute of Technology student has figured out how to construct an atomic bomb.

"Ideally, we should have a federal law covering this, but I don't feel we in Michigan can afford to wait for such a law in light of these recent revelations. We owe that much to the safety of Michigan citizens."

Although Rep. Mahalak is critical of action by the U.S. Congress, he feels apparently the State Legislature works more quickly. Being that he has been in the Legislature for quite some time, we find his criticism of the workings of Congress ironic. Does he really feel our State Legislature works any faster?

Going back to the atomic bomb problem, Mahalak in his press release states that the student said he began dabbling in the physics of nuclear explosives to prove how easily terrorists could build an atomic bomb if they sold radioactive plutonium to power it. The student added that he did not actually try to build an atomic bomb, but that he has proven to the satisfaction of experts that it can be done.

"If all of this is true, and there is every indication that it is, it becomes imperative that we take immediate steps to protect the public safety by making it a criminal offense to possess plutonium or try to build an atomic weapon," Mahalak wrote in his press release.

While he wrote that there presently is no statute which specifically makes it unlawful to attempt to construct an atomic bomb, he added: "Yet, information readily is available in public and technical libraries which would assist anyone trying to figure out how to build an atomic device."

The representatives proposals would make it a felony for anyone, except those authorized by law, to possess a device utilizing atomic energy for the purpose of developing an atomic weapon, or to possess plutonium or uranium enriched in the isotope 233 or 235, according to the press release.

Quite frankly, these proposals before the state Legislature seem like a waste of time.

It's illegal to drink alcoholic beverages and drive, yet hundreds of people in this state do just that daily. It's illegal to smoke marijuana or use drugs such as heroin, yet thousands of Michiganders do those things daily. They know it's against the law — the law is on the books passed by the Legislature — yet the law doesn't stop them.

Unfortunately as it may seem, if someone wants to make an atomic bomb and can get the necessary chemicals, no law on the books in this state or on a national level will stop him.

We're not saying there shouldn't be laws because, people don't obey them, but there are enough ridiculous laws on the books now just dealing with possible minute incidents. Rep. Mahalak do we really need another such law on the books?

Supervisor seeks support

To the editor, An open letter to the citizens of the Van Buren-Belleville area: Opinions ranged all the way from complete abandonment to slight modernization with a near unanimous "NO" to expansion of the Willow Run Airport.

The most common remarks expressed concern about noise and air pollution and their effect of devaluation of homes and the area in general. The people from the Michigan State Department of Highways and Transportation indicated that they "could not consider recommending an expansion" so unpalatable to the people that it would result in litigation.

We believe that the response of the people to these meetings expressed the feelings of the area more forcefully than any other procedure could have done.

We, who are trying to keep Willow Run Airport under control, want to thank all those who took the time to express their opinions. The next year may well determine the outcome and with this kind of support, that outcome should be favorable. We must keep our guard up and continue to make our feelings well known. The developments of the last four years should tell us we can control this activity if we continue to try.

If for any reason you were unable to attend the meetings that were held in Belleville and Ypsilanti last week but still want to add your support to the effort, communicate in some way with John Woodford, Director of Michigan State Department of Highways & Transportation, Lansing.

We need a continuing effort over the next few months.

Resident asks for stolen goods

To the editor and to whom it may concern: When we came back from our spring vacation, we were sorry to find that tar had been spilled in our house and that items had been stolen, even from upstairs.

To those of you who are responsible: Such things as that are a sin, and sin such as this can send you to hell, where no one can get out, cannot get a drink, and where there is torture, total darkness and loneliness.

Jesus Himself spoke of such a place as hell, and He never meant for any of us to go there.

Please, those of you who are guilty and those of you who read this, warn those who are guilty. Please get right with God, and get right with him now.

Jesus Christ died for our sins so that we would not have to perish.

"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten son, that whoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

Please receive Him now and return those stolen items so that things may be made right. Return that foot-long bed lamp which was my father's. Return that electric alarm clock. Return the pink wallet purse, the fishlines, the red flashlight, anything else you took out of our house by the small park in town. And please return Peter's 10-speed bicycle which was removed from our front yard the week before our spring vacation.

Money was paid for that bicycle. So we want the bike or the money for the bike which amounts to about $75 including tax.

Also return the two small televisions, radio clock and other items to the two women who live in the small house on Belleville Road beyond the railroad tracks, and return that 10-speed which belongs to the boy who lives at the end of Liberty Street.

And return everything you have taken, taking the joy out of people's lives.

Lothar shows creativity

By LUCY WIESEND
Enterprise Roman Editor

Most everyone, especially newspaper people, need an outlet for their creativity. An editor or reporter gets away from everyday writing by developing a feature story or a column. But what can a photographer do?

Our photographer, Lothar Konietzko, who needs no introduction in this newspaper or to this community because he has served this area for 21 years now, again is finding an outlet for his creativity in his Profiles in photography.

Lothar used to choose his best pictures, or an unusual one, or he would go out of his way to snap a shot of something beautiful, especially nature, then he would spend some time deciding what to call his creation.

And that's exactly what his Profiles photographs and, in fact, most of his photographs, are. Lothar is not a photographer satisfied with humdrum photos. He is an artist.

This newspaper used to publish Lothar's Profiles in photography. And for some reason, he stopped producing this special creation. But no longer. Profiles will be published in The Enterprise-Roman on a continuing basis on the Editorial Opinion page.

After looking at some old copies of The Enterprise-Roman and seeing Profiles, I asked Lothar to start providing me with Profiles again. He said: "Those photographs take time and I don't know if I can do it on a regular basis."

But after allowing Lothar a little more time in his regular daily schedule, he is putting more and more good Profile photographs on my desk daily.

Some newspaper staffers find Lothar's photographs so pleasing, they are asking for reprints to frame and hang on their living room walls. And although Lothar says he doesn't have time to do the reprints, he is thrilled by their compliments.

We are getting a lot of comments from people about Profiles.

"Boy, am I getting the comments again," Lothar said, just yesterday. "People are cutting them out again. But please run them big."

You are right, Lothar. In fact, the other day, I saw the former editor of

After tragic fire

Romulus officials may change building code

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman Writer

Officials in Romulus are moving toward a change in the city's building codes which may avert a tragedy similar to one which recently claimed the life of an 18-month-old girl.

Both Mayor Terry L. Troutt and Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally said they will back a proposal to require the addition of smoke detectors in a multiple dwelling.

"The death of the little girl was a tragic thing," Troutt said. "I have instructed the city attorney to review the building codes in the city to consider including smoke and heat detectors in all rental units."

"I feel especially bad, since I believe the girl could have been saved if her mother had had some warning on the fire."

The child, Rosalind Ruffin, perished in an early-morning blaze March 25 in the Oakbrook Townhouse complex on Eureka Road west of Middlebelt Road in Romulus.

The blaze apparently started on the first floor of the 2-story townhouse in which the child, her mother Mamie, and a 6-year-old sister slept. The blaze, believed to have been started by a candle, lit to provide light during a power blackout, swept up the stairs of the townhouse unit to the bedrooms and through the roof of the building.

"The response time for the Fire Department was good," Troutt continued. "But by the time the units of the Fire Department arrived, the blaze was out of control."

Six units of the Romulus and Taylor fire departments, including a ladder truck from Taylor, answered the call at approximately 2 a.m.

The Romulus fire station from which the first units responded is less than 500 feet from the front door of the Ruffin apartment unit.

Mrs. McAnally said she believes a prior warning could have saved the child, and added: "I'm especially concerned about a lack of escape routes from the upstairs of an apartment unit."

"Maybe the city should look into requiring some sort of ladder in at least one upstairs bedroom to provide egress from units, in addition to requiring smoke and heat detectors."

"Another thing to look into may be a requirement for better fire walls in apartment buildings."

The fire, which started in a center unit of the 8-unit building, swept south and west over the roof of the building, gutting four apartments.

Families living in two other units escaped the blaze without injury. A third unit was vacant.

Troutt said he has instructed Romulus Fire Chief John Wilheid to make a personal inspection of all multi-unit rental dwellings in the city to make a determination on what can be done to make them safer in the event of a fire.

"I expect him to report back soon in the hopes of including any information and suggestions he may have on improving safety in the ordinance the city attorney is researching on smoke and heat detectors," he added.

Troutt said he expects the city attorney to have a report to him within the next two weeks.

UM-M-M, GOOD! — And it isn't Campbell's we're referring to but good old "Dinosaur Soup" made by a group of kindergarten novice cooks at Merriman Elementary School in Romulus. Enjoying the aroma of their bubbling concoction are (from left) Julie Anderson, Michael Himick, Wayne Corman and Curtis Brooks. The soup was part of a unit on dinosaurs which the youngsters just completed.

They've done it! That long-awaited recipe for "dinosaur soup" has finally been perfected for the gourmands in the area. It was a group of kindergartners, no less, that put the novel ingredients together for one delicious luncheon.

The youngsters from Merriman Elementary School in Romulus who had as one of their spring projects a unit on dinosaurs, wound up the session with the call, "Soup's on!"

The children tried their hand in the culinary department by peeling potatoes, carrots and onions for the delicacy and then were asked to draw pictures of all the ingredients which went into the soup. They also put their artistic imaginations to work by drawing their own interpretation of a dinosaur. So, ladies and gentlemen of the cook-book world, here's that new addition for your recipe file.

Enterprise-Roman Suburban Living

Page A-6 Wednesday, April 23, 1975

DINOSAUR SOUP
Simmer 3 quarts of water with one large dinosaur bone for two hours. If the demand for dinosaur bones has caused a shortage in the meat department, substitute a large beef bone.

Add 4 cut up rocks (or potatoes if you prefer), 3 cut up roots (carrots may also be used), 2 fern bulbs (or onions), fern leaves (celery leaves will also do), 1 large can dragon fly eggs (tomatoes if you're allergic to flies), 2 teaspoons ground dinosaur bones (if you like a salty taste) and 1 teaspoon ground tar (pepper will give it some zip, too). Simmer in a pot over open coals (or range if one is available) for 1 hour. Eat heartily!

Kindergarten teachers, Carol Anders and Karen Price were assisted in the pre-historic venture by Dawn Bruder, a student teacher from Eastern Michigan University, and Irene Scheffer, paraprofessional.

Florence Klein receives JC Auxiliary award

FLORENCE KLEIN

When the Romulus Jaycee Auxiliary handed out its Outstanding Woman Award (OWA) for 1975, it was Florence Klein who received the annual accolade. Mayor pro tem Beverly McAnnally, a former OWA winner herself, presented the Jaycee's plaque, certificate and bouquet of red carnations to the this year's honoree.

Beth Pogats, chairman of the event, explained the meaning of the award to those attending the tea at Romulus City Hall. "The Jaycee Auxiliary," she said, "has for the past four years asked for nominees of Romulus women who contribute to their community in various ways." Candidates are then judged by a panel of other women brought in from outlying cities. Norma Lee Thomson of Wyandotte, one of the 1975 judges, was among those attending the ceremonies.

House plants topic at Home Arts Club

The biology room at Belleville High School was the meeting spot April 14 for the Home Arts Club. Program chairman, Virginia Turney, introduced Richard Dokas, a teacher at BHS, who spoke and described various house plants and answered questions.

A graduate of Illinois University who holds a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University, Dokas explained the techniques of preparing soil (how to sterilize the dirt so that all impurities would be removed).

With slides as visual aids, he pointed out the way to make cuttings on both large, woody plants and their smaller counterparts. How to plant seeds and how to spot the various pests that infect greens were also part of his program.

At the business meeting which followed, 30 members answered roll call. Their guests included Bonnie Moon, Bea Raymond, Eleanor Kenyon, Jan Sumner, Maxine Jackson, Mary Mumford and Barb Brendke. Two others, Marilyn Prill and Frances Jobe, were enrolled as new members.

Part of the evening program included a plant exchange between members who had brought every type from cacti to Swedish ivy. Members were reminded that the annual spring banquet which closes the club season will be held at 6:30 p.m. May 12 at Woodstone Inn of Belleville.

The final meeting of the year ended with homemade dessert and punch served by Avis White and Lois Wilson.

Gohl, Hoerig nuptials read at Baptist Church

The newly wed Walter Anthony Gohls have been making their home at 49251 I-94 Service Dr., Belleville, since their marriage March 8 at Grace Baptist Church of Belleville. Some 150 guests saw Teri Lee Hoerig become Mrs. Gohl in a 7 p.m. ceremony conducted by the Rev. Ray Frazier.

For the double ring rite, the altar was appointed with two baskets of white gladiolas and mums. Debbie Broughton, soloist, sang "Love is Like a Butterfly" with organ accompaniment by Mark Honeycutt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoerig of 40566 Alden Dr., Belleville. The bridegroom's parents are Walter C. Gohl of 2021 N. Kingsbury Ave., Dearborn, and Mrs. Donald Sharpe of 8701-113 Belleville Rd., Belleville.

Her shoulder length veil of nylon tulle was held by a ribbon bow adorned with tiny butterflies. Completing her ensemble was a colonial bouquet of white carnations, baby roses, baby's breath and blue daisies tied with dark blue velvet ribbon.

Preceding the bride to the altar were the honor maid, Sandra Redden of Belleville, and bridesmaids, both cousins of the bride, Cheryl Hoerig of Detroit and Janice Paulun of Southgate.

Their matching frocks were in pale blue with eggshell lace on the V-necked bodices. Their bouquets were comprised of blue and white daisies.

CHARLES GOHL served as his brother's best man with Tom Kirklin and Andy Gohl, another brother, as groomsmen. His brother, Ed Gohl, and Wendell Nickel seated the guests.

At the reception which followed at the Romulus VFW Club, the 250 relatives and friends were greeted by Mrs. Hoerig in a long gown of champagne polyester and the bridegroom's mother in a blue floor-length dress and matching cape.

May offers variety and fun for all

One of Michigan's tastiest claims to fame is its annual crop of Morels-monarch of wild mushrooms, for Western Wayne County residents and May is the month for pickin'.

It's also the month of blossoms, festivals, Michigan Week and all kinds of good times, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Mushroom season in the state usually begins late this month, extending through June. May, however, is prime time, especially for Morels. Otsego County is a choice area and they predict good hunting May 3-24.

The National Mushroom

Entertainment

Festival, May 10-11, at Boyne City provides "first timers" with expert guidance and the opportunity for all to find a good share of the elusive delicacy, as well as a good share of fun.

More good hunting and good times at the Mid-Michigan Mushroom Festival, May 16-18, on the campus of Mid-Michigan Community College in Harrison. If you don't know your mushrooms, it's best to make your first few searches with someone who does. Not all mushrooms are edible and picking wrong ones can be risky.

Heading the May festival docket is the Southwestern

Michigan Blossomtime Festival, the state's oldest, May 4-10 in Benton Harbor-St. Joseph. Blossomtime is highlighted by floral parade and ball, musical events, guest stars and religious observances plus a wide variety of attractions and events.

When it comes to blossoms, Holland--Michigan, that is--at Tulip Time, May 14-17, is a great experience. It's miles and acres of tulips of every conceivable color and variety in full bloom. It's the customs and costumes, music and arts, wooden shoes and windmills of the Netherlands. It's an authentic "Dutch treat" for everyone.

The emphasis turns from tulips to tartans, May 24-25, as the clans gather for the Highland festival and Games in Alma, sometimes referred to as Scotland U.S.A. You don't have to be Scottish though to be somewhat awed by the massed, kilt-clad pipe bands or the robust dexterity of the lads who compete in putting the stone, tossing the caber and other centuries old athletic events.

And you'll find it hard to keep your own feet still as you watch high-stepping lassies perform the intricate steps of the Highland Fling, sword dance, shean trows and other traditional Scottish dances.

Detroit's weekend Ethnic Festival program has become one of the city's, as well as the state's most popular summer attractions. The 1975 season opens with the Greek Festival, May 23-26 followed by the Irish May 30-June 1. The festivals, representing 19 different ethnic cultures, are held every weekend through Sept. 21 on a specially designed site behind Cobo Hall on the Detroit River in downtown Detroit. Admission and entertainment is free, ethnic foods and beverages, handicrafts and imported items from the countries represented are offered for sale.

The calendar lists some other ethnic oriented happenings this month, including: a German party in Sturgis, May 16; a Greek-American Festival, May 30-June 1, all in the Yack Recreation Center, in Wyandotte.

One of Michigan's traditional Memorial Day weekend events is the Fort Michilimackinac Pageant, May 24-26, at Mackinaw City. Main attractions of the pageant is the enactment of the historic game of lacrosse which led to the takeover of Fort Michilimackinac by Chief Pontiac and a band of Indians more than 200 years ago.

MichiganWeek, May 17-24, involves statewide participation. Cities, towns and communities present a variety of activities and events emphasizing Michigan's history and heritage, culture and industry, education and government.

May also has several

"fair" activities that are rated enjoyable, such as the Village Fair in the Civic Center in Birmingham and the Country Fair of Yesteryear is a recreation of rural fair as they happened more than a century ago. Parades, marching bands, old time crafts and a children's midway are just a few of the old-fashion fun things to enjoy.

A Spring Trade Fair, May 16-18, at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds will offer the opportunity for some spring shopping, flea marketing and antiquing with entertainment on the side.

So have no fear. May means fun for everyone.

Coed visits camp

A junior at Belleville High School is a member of the 1975 International Program at Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp. She is Brenda Alspaugh, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McDougal, 47279 North Shore Dr. Brenda plays the clarinet in the International Band.

More than 180 students are chosen for membership in Blue Lake's International Program on the basis of character, citizenship and musicianship, a spokesman said. They are all past campers who have been selected to participate in the concert tour and cultural exchange program, which will include visits to Belgium, Denmark, Norway, Luxembourg, Sweden, the Netherlands and Germany.

In addition to performing an outstanding repertoire the students will have the experience of living in several European homes and the opportunity to do some educational sight seeing, the spokesman added. Developing a continuing relationship between these students and their "host families" abroad is one of the primary goals of the program.

The Blue Lake International Program, now in its sixth season, is dedicated to a many sided approach to better understanding between the people of the world through cultural exchange and the universal language of music.

Czechoslovakia earnings shown

Czechoslovakia probably is the only country in the world where earnings in industry and agriculture are comparable.

"We probably are also the only state in the world in which every fifth farmer has been trained in a profession and every 10th member of an agricultural cooperative or state farm has studied at secondary or university level agricultural school," a spokesman said.

Van Buren joins county grant request

An application for up to $700,000 of federal funds for community development projects in local communities, including Van Buren Township, in Wayne County has been authorized by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The potential money is available in a 1-year block grant under the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) on April 15, and if approved by HUD, the funds will be administered jointly by the County Planning Commission and Office of Program Development and Coordination.

Most of the money, $226,000, is planned for public works projects. Another $200,000 is scheduled for recreation, and $192,000 for housing and improvement of neighborhood facilities.

Dollar amounts to be spent in specific communities will not be determined until the grant finally is approved since in the program HUD funds various projects on basis of census tracts, not community boundaries.

Among the projects contemplated is the acquisition of land for fire station needs, parking facilities and senior citizen housing, rehabilitation of substandard structures, improvements in water and drainage systems, and planning and development of neighborhood parks and playgrounds.

"Although we are applying for a 1-year grant, the program offers renewal possibilities which would extend it up to three years," said Roscoe L. Bobo, the chairman of the county board.

The cities that have joined the county in the block grant program are Allen Park, Southgate, Ecorse, Grosse

Pointe Park, Melvindale, Plymouth, Grosse Pointe Farms, Grosse Pointe, Flat

Rock, Gibraltar, and Northville. Also a part of the program are the townships of Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Grosse Ile, Sumpter, Grosse Pointe and Brownstown.

People in general are similar but no two people are completely alike. People share a common physical structure but each one of us has a single spirit unlike that of any other person. You can be identified by external appearance, mannerisms and traits, but no one can categorize your individual thoughts or your soul; that which is you and you alone.

In the hustle and bustle of this busy world, scores of millions of people are in daily contact. Some share joys and sorrows, some weep when another weeps, some laugh when another laughs, but not always for the same reason. Through mannerisms and traits, you can get a glimpse of vices, virtues, hopes, ambitions, disappointments and frustrations in others, but complete revelation is not possible. Though you live with and among others, each person actually lives within the shell of himself - with himself. Whether a man is a success or failure by accepted standards, he and he alone knows whether it is true. When we think of these things, would not the world be better off if more people made more effort to know more about their fellow men as individuals?

To benefit organization

'Number' hosts Lulow band

The Lulow Family Band will play at a benefit dance at 8 p.m. Friday at the Van Buren Township Hall, under the sponsorship of "The Number".

Lionel Lulow, lead guitarist, has been in bands for a number of years, and also does singles. "The Family Band" has been in existence for about five years. His son, Jim, plays guitar, and daughter Jerry sings and plays the tambourine. Only member not in the family is Carl Ray, bass and guitar, who formerly was with "Johnny and the Hurricanes." He also is a successful single performer.

The Lulows are known in the area and are popular with the Moose Lodges.

One of their specialties is a "Do Your Thing" feature. Patrons who always have wanted to play, sing, or dance with a band (but don't dare to ask!), are encouraged to do so — and need not furnish their own instrument, a Number spokesman said.

Jerry Lulow, sophomore at Belleville High School, said: "I think our family band really brings us closer together as we practice and play together so much. My mother played in the band until I took her place."

Tickets for the benefit are tax deductible and available from any staff member of "The Number", and also at the Village Sound. Donation is $10. Refreshments and set ups will be served.

Owen surveys health code

By STATE REP.
GARY OWEN
OF The 22nd District

The premature release of dangerous criminals back into society continues as a result of recent court rulings and the recently revised State Mental Health Code. However, a 2-bill package to correct this situation has recently passed the Michigan House of Representatives and now awaits Senate Judiciary Committee action.

The need for remedial legislation was demonstrated all too clearly by recent incidents involving persons released prematurely from mental institutions. A Detroit man beat his wife to death after being ruled not guilty on a murder charge by reason of insanity, then being found not mentally ill by a civil court. In a similar case an elderly Flint couple were murdered.

The blame for this legal entanglement lies partly in a Michigan Supreme Court ruling regarding defendants declared not guilty of a crime by reason of insanity. The court rightfully intended to insure such persons would not be indefinitely left in mental institutions without official commitment as a mentally ill person.

However, critics of the decision point out that this permits release of persons no longer mentally ill by psychiatric standards, but still potentially dangerous to others.

The revised state Mental Health Code also receives part of the blame. It states mental health patients must receive periodic review of their progress. Some feel that the code fails to define mental illness adequately.

The Michigan Legislature

addressed this situation first with a bill to amend the Mental Health Code by making the definitions of "mental illness" and "dangerousness" more specific to meet the mandates of decisions of both state and federal courts. House Bill 4362 would include those persons who need treatment but lack the judgement to discern that need under the definition of "person requiring treatment."

The second measure, House Bill 4363, revises the Code for Criminal Procedure which governs the disposition of persons found not guilty by reason of insanity.

Democratic Club plans fund raiser

The Sumpter Democratic Club will be holding a membership and fund raising drive.

The club discussed the drive at a recent meeting which featured a donation to the memorial fund being set up to honor former 15th Congressional District Democratic organization chairman John Canfield.

Mr. Canfield, who had served as mayor of Dearborn Heights, passed away last month after a lengthy illness. Mr. Canfield is being honored for his work with the 15th District Democrats with a monument at his burial place in Piggott, Ark.

Speakers at the meeting, held at the Democratic Club headquarters in Sumpter Township, were Wayne County Commissioners Royce Smith (D-27th District) and Edgar Harris (D-26th District) and Dudley Buffa, an aide to Michigan Democratic Sen. Philip Hart.

During its regular business, the club members voted to keep the same officers for the next two years instead of holding elections this year. The elections were normally held in May.

Donna Demski was the raffle ticket holder.

Coffee and rolls were served after the meeting adjourned.

Romulus woman aids in planning of budget

A Romulus resident has been added to the Budget Committee of United Way of Michigan (UWM). She is Dorothy M. Rush of 29620 King Road.

Donald J. Pizzimenti, committee chairman, said that she would be assigned to panels at UWM's annual budget conference to be held April 29-30 at Michigan State University.

Each panel will review the budget presentations of two or more UWM member agencies and then make recommendations for the funding of the agencies during 1976.

UWM has 23 health and social service agencies as members. It helps plan programs and provides budgeting services and financial support for them. Funds for UWM come from 140 local United Way campaigns conducted throughout Michigan. The United Foundation of Metropolitan Detroit is providing $3,440,000 for UWM's member services during 1975.

Youth to receive new appointment

A Belleville youth has been appointed to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. He is Michael Alimpich, 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Alimpich of 44080 Michigan Ave.

The appointment was announced by Rep. William D. Ford (D-15th District).

The youth is a June graduate of John Glenn High School. He will be commissioned as a lieutenant in the Army following his graduation from West Point.

Ford expressed pride in Alimpich's successful completion of a strict selection process for the appointment.

"He is an outstanding young man who will be a credit to his family and his community," Ford said. "I know he will do well at West Point."

Terrier is 'best' in class

A dog owned by a Belleville couple has been named Best Male Terrier at a recent Boston Terrier Club of Detroit match. The owners of the Boston Terrier, Bennie, are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Belleville Road.

Bennie competed against 30 dogs.

The next Boston Terrier match is scheduled for Sept. 14 at the V.F.W. Hall, 177 Vester Ave., Ferndale.

Firm offers tax rebate

A Western Wayne County mobile home firm is offering a federal income tax credit of up to 5 percent, not to exceed $2,000 to residents who purchase a qualified mobile home from the company.

Prestige Mobile Homes of Belleville is offering the rebate as part of the sweeping tax cut, signed into law recently by President Gerald Ford.

Persons who buy a qualified mobile will get a credit of 5 percent of the purchase price when they file their 1975 federal income tax return.

The only restrictions established by the tax law, is that the home must be purchased between March 13, 1975 and Dec. 31, 1975 and must have been manufactured, or under construction, by March 25, 1975. A list of serial numbers of the homes available at the dealership which meet the federal requirements have been supplied.

Prestige Mobile Homes sells many brands of mobile homes in sizes up to 1050 square feet.

Prestige pointed out that the buyer of a qualifying mobile home also will receive a bargain on the purchase price since mobile home dealers are required to supply their buyers signed certification that the purchase price is the lowest at which the home ever has been offered.

"Considering everything, the tax credit and the price break, now is an excellent time to purchase a mobile home," a spokesman said. "Prices never have been this good and I doubt if there ever will be another chance at a government credit of up to $2,000."

Township commission collects $330 in sale

The Van Buren Bicentennial Commission has made $330 on a rummage sale. Held April 12 at the Van Buren Township Hall, the sale was designed to finance activities sponsored by the commission, including prizes in a float design contest at the Belleville High School.

The $330 figure was more than was expected from the sale, according to Bicentennial Commission Co-chairman Patricia Cullin.

"We had only hoped for about $100 to cover the float contest prizes," she said. "But the citizens appeared to be eager, and we had to close the sale at 2 p.m. instead of at 4 p.m. as planned."

Another rummage sale is planned for sometime in mid-August, according to Mrs. Cullin.

"If this past sale is any evidence, then this is an excellent means to raise funds for the Bicentennial celebration in the township," she said.

Plans by the Bicentennial Commission call for a year-long commemoration of America's 200th anniversary of independence in 1976 with the celebration featuring weekend events during the year.

Through meetings

OA helps overeaters

Western Wayne County residents who tend to have a problem with their eating habits may find help with a new organization that meets at Belleville High School weekly.

Overeating Anonymous (OA) follows traditions and step as does Alcoholics Anonymous, self-supporting and no dues or fees, according to a spokesman for the organization.

OA offers a person acceptance of him or herself as he or she is and will be, and an understanding of the common problems and communications so that he or she can identify with others who may have a similar problem, he added.

Acceptance of overeating as a problem is the first step, doing something about it is the second, the spokesman said. OA offers people who tend to overeat the fellowship of men and women who suffer from the same compulsive habit.

Residents interested in the program can attend the meetings held at the high school, located at 501 W. Columbia, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. every Thursday.

The special guest speaker for the first session, set for tomorrow, will be Mildred of Allen Park. According to the spokesman, the policy of OA is the use of first names at the meetings.

For further information call 699-2497 or 697-0742.

Officials set meeting

Residents of Romulus living near the Harrison Elementary School, 14701 Harrison Road, can meet at 8 p.m. May 14 with their public officials.

Members of the Romulus City Council and the city administration will be on hand to answer questions concerning the city and city services.

At a recent meeting at the Hayti Elementary School, more than 30 people questioned eight elected officials on the operation of the city, discussing the recent tax break offered to the General Motors Corp., lighting and maintenance of roads, recreation programs and drainage problems in their area.

Five games on docket

It'll be a busy week for Romulus High's baseball team and rookie Coach Dennis Stoh who'll have four games in a span of five days awaiting them.

"The sudden cold weather hit us pretty much by surprise," Stoh said. "And we haven't had a chance to recover."

"But I'm pretty much satisfied with the way things are working out for us." Romulus will return to the diamond today, traveling to Willow Run for a 4 p.m. contest. Then, at 1 p.m. on Saturday, the Eagles will invade Saline for a doubleheader. They'll stay on the road Monday when Woodhaven will take them on in a single game scheduled for 4 p.m.

Meanwhile, Bob Griffin won his first game of the season as a Romulus hurler as the Lutheran West transfer student put down Dearborn Heights Robichaud 8-4.

Griffin pitched 5 one-third innings, notched 10 strikeouts and walked four while giving up four hits.

"Griffin pitched a good game," Stoh said. "And it's really nice to see him get that first victory."

Romulus staked its senior hurler to three runs in the first inning, then struck for three more in the fourth, and put two more on the scoreboard in the fifth inning.

The victory padded the Eagles' over-all record on the season to 3-1.

Back-to-back triples by Bill McBride and Don McMann in the first inning sparked Romulus' 3-run attack.

Jay Barton chipped in two hits; while Bill McBride finished with a triple and single, including two runs batted in.

McNann also had a couple of RBI's. Romulus' Rick Britz suffered his first setback of the season as Belleville kayoed the Romulus senior 8-2.

Britz, an All-Area selection last year, whiffed four and walked one in his 5 two-thirds innings on the mound. Simon Margilia relieved him in the last inning.

Romulus got on the scoreboard in the bottom of the second to tie the score on a walk to Griffin, a balk and a wild pitch. Then McMann cracked a run-scoring single.

The Eagles took a 2-1 lead in the second inning, that stood up until the top of the fifth when Belleville exploded for five big runs.

In that second Romulus' Mike Ruffolo drew a base on balls, advanced to second on a sacrifice, then raced home when Jay Barton smacked a grounder to first which was booted.

Walt Easley, who earned All-Area cage honors, got his first start on the mound for Belleville and the Tiger senior was in control all the way.

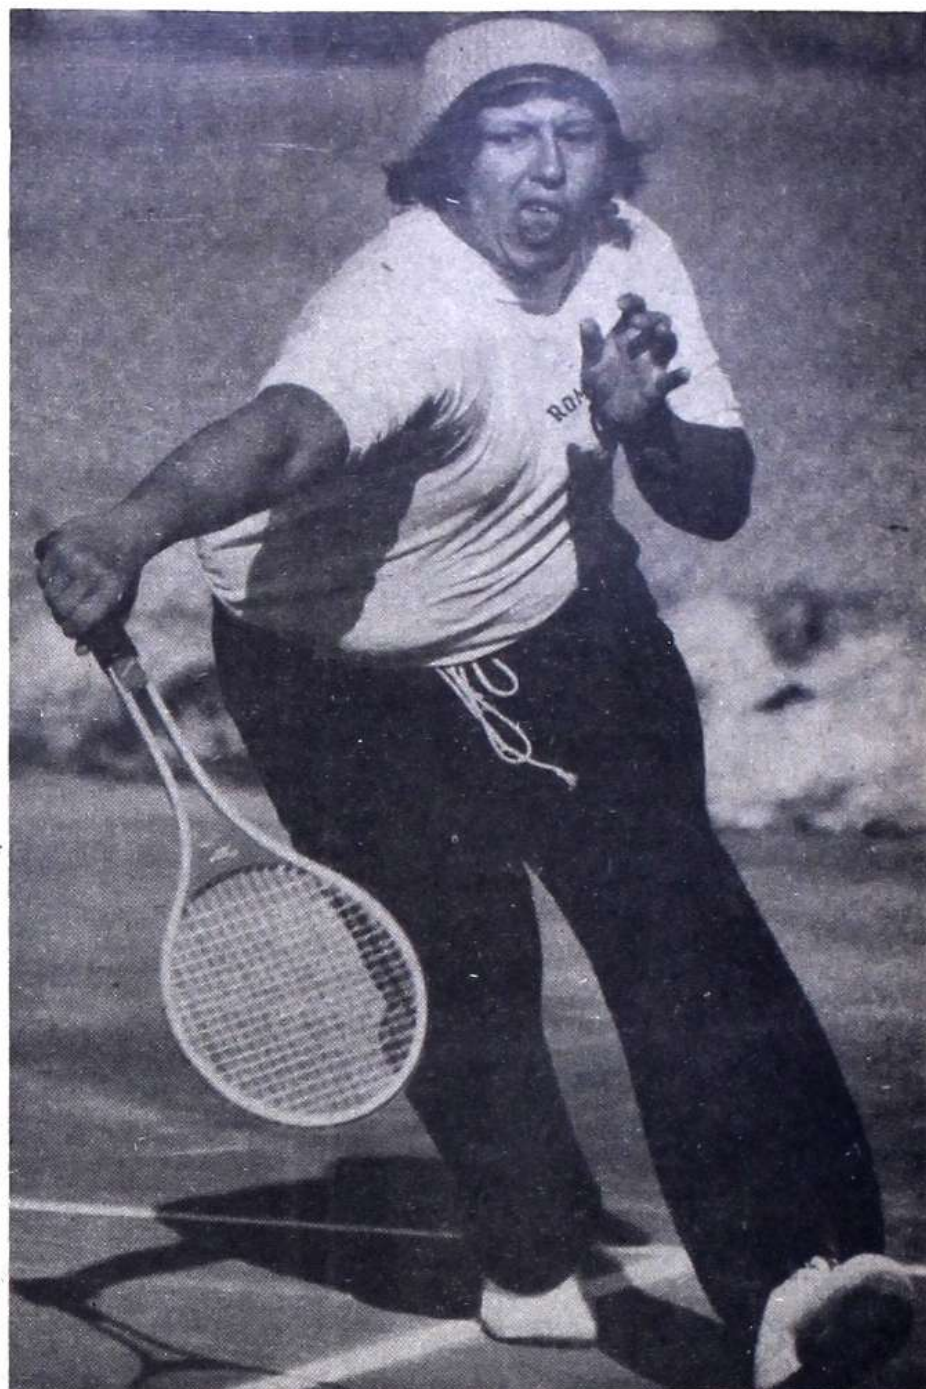

Easley went the distance, struck out nine and walked six, giving up two hits.

Belleville scored the go-ahead run in the second inning when Jeff Hoeman singled, stole second, then went to third on a balk. He was chased home when Kevin Barnes sacrificed to left center.

The Tigers exploded for five runs in the fifth on a leadoff single by Scott Rice. He moved to second when Mike Stanley singled and All-Area outfielder Dave Dapsi then cracked a 2-run single.

With two outs Belleville continued its rally on Barnes' run-scoring single, then Russell Rooks walked. After Easley whiffed, Paul Kryzaniak singled in two runs.

Belleville put its final two runs on the scoreboard in the seventh as Hoeman ignited the rally with a single. He moved to second when Barnes got his third hit of the day, then Rooks singled in one run and Barnes scored on a groundout.

Sports Meridian Emerson resigns as coach

By TOM MOORADIAN

The long and fiery coaching career of Keith Emerson has ended.

Emerson, who for the past five seasons has headed Belleville High's football coaching program, is bowing out of the coaching scene to devote more time to his family.

"I have spent 17 years coaching high school teams and I want to spend more time with my family," said Emerson last night. "My son will be playing college football next season and I would like to watch him play."

"KEITH JR. starred for Dearborn Divine Child and has a couple of scholarship offers. The young Emerson hasn't made up his mind where he will go to school upon completion of high school this June."

"I've pondered about this (about resigning) for quite some time," continued Emerson, "in fact I offered to resign a year ago, then decided against it."

Some of Belleville High's grid fans were critical of Emerson when he failed to come up with a contender. He answered this with:

"When I accepted the job five years ago Belleville hadn't won more than one game in what was then the Suburban 6 Conference in each of their last 10 seasons."

"In fact, when we posted a 5-4 record in 1971, it was the best football record at Belleville in the past 15 years."

"But, times are changing I guess and people with them." Emerson coached football and was head of the athletic department at Dearborn Heights Robichaud for more than a decade when he decided to leave the controversial school district in the late sixties. The era was punctuated with student walkouts and board of education squabbles.

MORE THAN 50 of Emerson coached players eventually found their way into the college ranks. In fact, Keith Simons, one of the top notch defensive tackles in the Big 10, will be a co-captain of the University of Minnesota team this season. Simons is a senior.

And, while at Robichaud, Emerson coached such stalwarts as Silas McKinnie who went on to set all sorts of records at the University of Iowa as a running back.

Last year Emerson's Tigers posted a 2-7 won-lost record.

"People seem to forget that Belleville is the smallest high school in the Suburban 8," said Emerson, "and, despite the fact, I think our boys did one heck of a job."

Harry Hidenfelder, Belleville High athletic director, said he has no candidates at present to fill the vacancy.

"We'll see if we can find someone within the school system to take his place. If not, then we'll take a look at other candidates," he said.

Huron will face Catholic Central

Content that it has won more baseball games this season than it did during the entire 1974 campaign, New Boston Huron will open the Huron Conference campaign today at Monroe Catholic Central (MCC).

"Monroe has a couple of pitchers whom I consider are among the best in the league," said Huron Coach Ron Smith. "MCC was runner-up last year and I consider them solid contenders this season."

Smith said that Bob Sherman, Monroe's 6-foot 6-inch pitcher could be the best in the league. Sherman won nine of his 11 starts last year.

Meanwhile, the Chiefs went out and won their second game of the year at the expense of nonleague rival, Ypsilanti Lincoln, 6-5.

The Huron victory gave it a 3-2 over-all record on the season.

Lonnie Fater, a junior who throws left-handed, was the winning pitcher. The Huron hurler checked Lincoln on five hits, struck out six and walked six.

He got into trouble in the seventh when he gave up two of those six walks and the Ypsilanti team managed to put three runs on the scoreboard in that frame.

Trailing 2-1 in the fourth, the Chiefs came up with four runs to take a 4-1 lead which it never has relinquished.

In that fourth, Dave Dilks ignited the rally with a lead off single; then Dave Schwartz bounced into a fielder's choice and the Chiefs loaded the bases when Ted Papps walked.

Lincoln's defense buckled down and turned Craig Beattie's grounder to second into a forceout at home. Fater also failed to get a run

Tigers, coach recover

Belleville and Coach Bruce Romant hope to recover from their painful 85-37 track setback at the hands of Redford Union last week at the expense of Livonia Bentley tomorrow.

"It hurt," said Romant who suffered his first personal defeat as the Tigers' track mentor. "Redford Union just had too much for us right down the line."

Belleville entered the confrontation with Redford Union minus several key runners who were sidelined with injuries.

"I'm expecting these injured athletes back in our lineup for Bentley," Romant said. "And I'm also expecting a good meet against the Livonians."

Belleville is host of the 4 p.m. Bentley meet.

Al Russell prevented Redford Union from making a clean sweep of the field events as the Belleville pole vaulter cleared 11 feet, 6 inches for one of the Tigers' two first places.

Belleville cashed in Mike Blazer's performance in the 220-yard dash for its second

Coach labels recent defeat 'heartbreaker'

"Heartbreaker." That's how veteran Belleville High baseball coach Vitold Kaminski described his team's latest setback — a 3-2 defeat at the hands of Edsel Ford.

"Dan (Mattson) pitched a 3-hitter for us but it just wasn't in the books, I guess," said Kaminski who is the dean of area coaches.

Mattson went all the way, gave up three hits and struck out 10. But, he also was tagged for two walks in the fifth inning which figured in the T-Birds' three runs.

Belleville got on the board first when Scott Rice walked to start the third inning, Jeff Jenks singled and Hoeman hit into a groundout, allowing Rice to score.

Belleville turned it into a 2-0 game in the fourth. A single by Rich Ivan followed by an error put Barnes on first and Ivan on second, then Stanley singled home the run.

Edsel Ford rallied for three runs in the fifth and made them stand up for the victory.

Belleville started the season taking it on the chin from Suburban 8 Conference rival Allen Park, 8-2.

Jeff Hoeman worked the first 2 two-thirds innings on the mound for the Tigers and was charged with the loss. He was tagged with six runs and five hits.

Reliever Paul Vas finished up for Belleville which is 0-2 on the league year.

Belleville took a 1-0 first inning lead against the Jaguars when Rice walked, went to second on Ivan's fielder's choice. Jeff Jenks' grounder advanced the runners, then Dave Dapsi belted a 2-run double.

After meeting Redford Union on Monday, Kaminski's Tigers faced Livonia Bentley on Tuesday, then will head for Dearborn on Friday.

"It's a big week for us," said the Belleville mentor. "And, we'll know a lot more about our team the next few days."

Wilkerson setting goal

Romulus track coach Al Wilkerson's goal this season is "progress."

Wilkerson, who inherited the team this year from Jesse Meriweather, had only four trackmen to build his 1975 model.

More than 45 athletes have shown up to uphold the Eagles' track honor this season.

"Our main goal is progress," said the enthusiastic Wilkerson. "And we have a crop of ninth and 10th graders out who really look good."

"I'm definitely building for the future and the future definitely looks good." If improvement is the Romulus coach's goal, then he received some last week. Despite a 70-52 setback at the (Continued on Page B-2)

Despite improvements, Romulus netmen lose

Though they are 1-6 on the season, Romulus Tennis Coach Tom Baldwin isn't disappointed and, isn't ready to push any panic buttons, he said.

"We lost a close match last week to Robichaud," he added. "And I feel we should have won that one. The kids are showing improvement with each match."

"That's about all we can expect of our players now."

In that duel with the Dearborn Heights netmen, Romulus' 2-time All-Area netman Ray Ebersberger lost a 3-setter. It was the second defeat of the season for the senior netman, equalling the number of defeated he had sustained during the entire 1974 campaign.

"Ray has lost a couple of close ones and you know he's going to pull out of it," Baldwin said. "He's too good of a player."

Romulus broke its losing streak by beating Trenton's No. 2 team 5-2. Ebersberger erased his No. 1 singles' counterpart, Herb Gardner, in a couple of 6-0 sets.

Baldwin said that "the surprises thus far this season have been provided by Mike Heridia and Norm Kent who have been consistent as the Eagles No. 2 and No. 3 sticks."

New Boston Huron 'has come of age'

If their nonleague performance against a highly-respected Riverview track contingent is any indication of its power, then New Boston Huron has come of age.

Coach Mike Matthews' Chiefs buried Riverview 68½-48½ last Thursday to remain undefeated in dual meet competition on the year.

"We look pretty good right now," Coach Matthews said. "However, we don't have the depth that I would like to have."

THE HURON coach said that Johnson (Don) and Frazier (Keith) had exceptional performances against the Pirates. "And the Bennett brothers — Dave and Don — will keep us right in the running for the quarter and the half mile."

Huron amassed nine of 15 first places with Frazier and Dave Bennett each accounting for two. He was clocked over the 120-high hurdles in 16.5, then returned to the field to claim the low hurdles in 21.8.

Johnson cleared 12 feet for the pole vault victory. Earlier in the week he placed fifth at the prestigious Mansfield Relays with a 13-foot effort.

Les West of Dayton South High School won the gold medal for the pole vault at Mansfield with a superb 15-foot effort.

Mathews' Chiefs will have a very busy week taking on Woodhaven tomorrow after racing Erie Mason last night. Their home meet is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

Wilkerson setting goal of progress

Donald Robinson chipped in the long jump as he cleared 18 feet, 4½ inches, while Rodney Summers won the high jump competition with a mere 5-foot, 6-inch effort.

In the mile, Romulus' Steve Zimmerman crossed the finish line first. He was clocked in 5:08.3, beating Willow Run's Frank Law by more than nine seconds.

Denardo Green ran a 1:13 in winning the 2-mile run.

Romulus will be back in action tomorrow, running a strong River Rouge command. Rouge, one of the top Class B teams in the state this season, will invade the Eagles' track at 4 p.m.

Then, on Tuesday, Wilkerson's minions take on Woodhaven, a team that also is building a track program.

Huron will face Catholic Central

However, Steve Kwasnik walked, forcing in one run and Jeff Gill broke a 2-all deadlock with a 2-run single to center.

In the third, Beattie fanned to start the inning but Fater got aboard on a single and then proceeded to steal second and third. Kwasnik walked, moved to second on a stolen base and Larry Kitley's single drove in the run.

Huron chalked up its third win of the season by blanking Woodhaven behind the 2-hitting pitching of Mike Michling. The southpaw hurler struck out nine and walked none for his second victory against no losses. Michling hasn't been scored upon now for the past nine innings.

Huron scored without the benefit of a hit in the second inning thanks to an error of Gill's grounder. Tim Senior and Schwartz sacrificed. The Chiefs got an insurance run in the fifth when Michling was safe on an error, stole second and was chased home when Fater singled.

A 2-run Huron seventh sealed the victory and Fater started that off with a walk, then stole second. Kwasnik and Gill also walked to load the bases. Senior hit into a fielder's choice with Fater out at the plate, bringing up Russ Ikerd who belted a 2-run single.

REALTOR WEEK APRIL 20-26

ANDREW JACKSON—
The Hermitage, Tennessee

"I want to accumulate land: miles and miles of land, great herds of cattle and horses, and raise fine crops for market. I want us to be secure."

THOMAS JEFFERSON—
Monticello, Virginia

"The happiness of the domestic fireside is the first boon of mankind; and it is well it is so, since it is that which is the lot of the mass of mankind."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT—
Sagamore Hill, New York

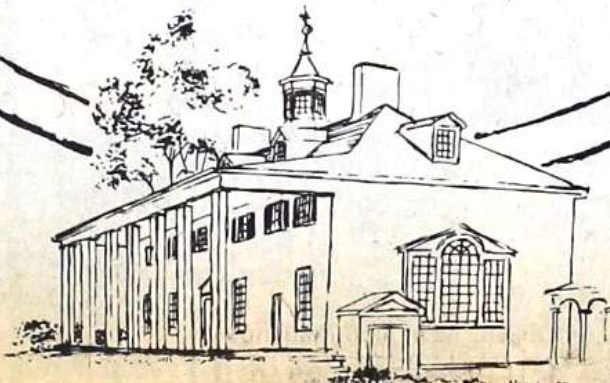

"Every person who invests in well selected real estate in a growing community adopts the surest and safest method of being independent, for Real Estate is the basis of wealth."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—
Springfield, Illinois

"Let him not, who is homeless, pull down the house of another man, but let him work diligently and build one for himself. Property is the fruit of labor, property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world."

HOME OWNERSHIP: AN AMERICAN TRADITION

GEORGE WASHINGTON—
Mt. Vernon, Virginia

"Strongly I am impressed with beneficial effects which our country would receive if every citizen owned his own home."

Through the years, from the beginnings of life in America, the one dream that has always prevailed has been the ability to own one's own property. As it was with the famous occupants of the homes depicted on this page, the people of America still cling to the security, the pride and the comfort of owning a home of their own. Now, during National Realtor Week, the members of your Board of Realtors pledge their earnest abilities to make possible this American dream for every member of our community. For experienced, convenient service in the buying and selling of real estate, call on any one of the Realtor members listed below.
